The Lost City: The Grand Expedition (Part 2)

In the shifting sands of the Kenaani deserts, the legendary city of Tyron has been found. Dedicated to the gods and built long, long ago - before the unification of Dantir, before the High King, before MAGIC. It secrets lost to the aeons, waiting to be uncovered by the adventurer brave enough to pass the crater's walls.

The gates that have defeated generations of the greatest Courier scholars now stand open, and the shadows within are open to explore. But the warnings of the desert magi ring in the mind. Beware. Danger. Doom is held within. Surely no peril can remain after so many centuries in an empty desert ruin, where once the soaring Hao-her and the now ocean-bound Mea-Kai walked alongside the common Sauger. Who will step within?

NPC volunteers get to play a many types of characters and fully participate in battle scenarios as monsters. If you don't have a current character, please help us by volunteering as NPC.

Non-combat roles are available.
